

GR20: standard & guided version

14 days / 13 nights

This is the Authentic in the original sense of the most famous of treks.

The more alpine, more mineral, more difficult northern part will be absorbed by fresh bodies from the very first days.

All the climbs on the program are NORTH-facing, so in the shade, which is an undeniable advantage!

What's more, you'll be physiologically and mentally relieved before tackling the second part. All in all, an optimized success rate.

EQUIPMENT TO TAKE

- A good pair of walking boots (ones that you have used before), with ankle support and non-slip soles.
- Good quality walking socks
- A comfortable rucksack (either for all of your kit or as a day sack) with plenty of plastic bags to keep your kit dry.
- If you are having your luggage transferred, please make sure that you have only one bag for the transfers, with a maximum weight of 15 kilos. It should be an easily transportable soft bag or with wheels.
- T-shirt and shorts (depending upon the likely weather)
- Light trekking trousers (not jeans)
- It is good to be able to 'layer' your clothes – with several light tops (for protection against cold, wind or sun)
- A warm sweater, polar or fleece. Beanie, gloves.
- Waterproofs – such as an anorak (Gore-tex or micro pore for example) or poncho.

- A bathing suit and towel
- Sandals or flip flops for beaches, river wading, or for wearing in the evening (it's important to be able to rest your feet from your walking boots)
- Sun cream plus sunglasses and a hat or cap
- A change of clothes
- For the picnics, you will need a small Tupperware box (for stews or salads), a plastic mug, a knife and fork. A Swiss Army knife or a pen knife is optional but can be very useful.
- Walking poles can be very useful to take the weight off the knees and to steady yourself on uneven terrain.
- A water bottle (at least one). It is preferable that you should be able to carry at least 2 litres of water at any one time.
- Camera and film, or batteries and memory cards for digital ones.
- A light torch (with spare battery)
- A small first aid kit possibly including: Rehydration salts to combat dehydration or fatigue, something for cuts, sprains, blisters, breaks, burns, stings, and pain relief. Please remember any personal medication that you may need.
- Wash bag, including: toothbrush, toothpaste, towel, toilet paper. Preferably a biodegradable soap for washing fruit, washing yourself and for washing clothes (it is possible to buy a multi-purpose biodegradable soap). Earplugs can also be useful if you are sleeping in dormitories.
- Money – make sure you have enough cash on you for your trek (in Euros), as it is unlikely that you will be able to use a card or withdraw money if you are in the mountains.
- Maps – IGN maps of a scale and quality that allow you to see the route clearly. If you are on a self-guided tour, you will more than likely be given copies of sections of maps. These should be clear enough to guide you along the route alongside the route notes, but we strongly recommend that you have the correct maps for the area of your walk. Please contact us if you need advice.
- A compass – but make sure you are able to read it before starting on your trek
- Mobile phone and charger (it may not always be possible to get a signal or to charge it, but it can be very helpful in many circumstances).
- Snacks (such as energy bars, dried fruit).
- If you are a vegetarian, we suggest you bring a good supply of nuts or other foods containing protein. It is not always possible to get a good balanced meal, particularly in the more remote places in the mountains.

SAFETY INSTRUCTIONS

All our trips are supervised by state-qualified mountain guides from Corsica who know the region inside out. Depending on weather conditions, technical difficulties or the physical condition of participants, the guide may modify the program and itineraries proposed. He remains the sole judge of the situation and of the decisions he makes, which he adapts to the constraints and imperatives of safety.

Please note that under no circumstances does the guide have an obligation to achieve results, whatever the cost. It is the guide who judges and decides whether or not to stop a participant, taking into account his or her technical level, physical condition and freshness. The only thing that counts is the physical integrity of the participants, so he has an obligation of safety, not of result. Furthermore, the stages must be completed within a "conventional timing" in order to ensure the smooth running and organization of the trip. Should this not be the case, the guide will be obliged to stop the participant(s) for insufficient level, without any compensation on our part, in accordance with our General Terms and Conditions of Sale.

Nature of the terrain: very varied, paths in forests and pastures, alternating with rocky and stony terrain, scree, slabs, often with a high step amplitude. Very mineral and chaotic terrain.

Numerous fairly steep climbs, with a few passages on ridges and off-trail. Snow-covered passes at the start of the season, which may require us to use a mountain guide on stages 3 and 5. Should this be the case, the cost will have to be spread over all participants.

Walking times: These are given for information only. They are average times and take into account only the actual walking time, not breaks. They are calculated on the basis of 300 m of ascent per hour and 450 m per hour of descent; they take into account the quality of the terrain.

Level: sporty, stages averaging between 6 and 7 hours' walking per day, with an average daily ascent of 850 meters. You'll need to be in good physical condition to get the most out of your stay.

Don't forget to keep fit at least once a week by walking (15 to 18 km), if possible on an uphill route (350 to 400 m/h ascent), or by practicing a sport that develops endurance.

NB: If one of the participants has a problem on the circuit, he or she can, if possible, take advantage of the assistance-baggage link to join the group at the next stage. This option is not systematic and will entail an additional cost to be borne by the customer. Any transfer due to a problem of level or fitness will have to be paid by the customer directly to the service provider. (Example transfer Ascu Stagnu-Calasima 35 €/ pers)

Meals and accommodation:

Lunches: in the form of picnics during the hike. All our lunchtime picnics are based on quality local produce (salads, cold meats, cheese, etc.). Snacks during the hike (Corsican cakes and dried fruit).

Dinners and breakfasts: breakfasts and evening meals served in accommodation.

Showers: You'll be able to take a shower every evening (hot showers not guaranteed in refuges on evenings 6 at Petra Piana and 10 at Usciolu).

Water: drinking water is regularly available at springs along the trails; however, a flask of at least one and a half liters is desirable.

Accommodation: Please note that gîtes are only equipped with dormitories with shared sanitary facilities, providing basic but decent comfort. Single rooms are not available. Power outlets are available for overnight stays in gîtes.

Depending on availability, nights in refuge can be spent in a 2-person tent or a large Marabou near the sheepfolds.

Refuges are accommodations owned by the Parc Naturel Régional de Corse and managed by independent independent managers. They are inaccessible by road and offer rustic comfort (cold showers, random sanitary facilities, no blankets), no blankets). Dormitories are low-slung with thick mattresses. If the refuge is full, igloo tents with mattresses (floor mats) are available for bivouacs. You may have to pitch your own tent. For bivouacs near sheepfolds, basic comfort with either a shower or a river.

In all cases, you'll need a sleeping bag.
